Forecast For Northwest England
Issued by Met Office Exeter
at 0400 on Thursday 16 Dec 2021

++ Valid for broadcast between 0600 and 1800

Headline:
Any fog slow to clear, largely cloudy but dry.

Today:
Any fog slow to clear during the morning and giving way to a widely cloudy day. Patchy outbreaks of drizzle possible, largely over the high ground, but easing later. Maximum temperature 10 deg C (50 deg F).

Tonight:
Dry but largely cloudy, some breaks in the cloud are possible, where the cloud does break, risk of a touch of frost and some mist and fog patches. Minimum temperature 3 deg C (37 deg F).

Friday:
Remaining settled Friday, any mist of fog slow to lift, leaving most places largely cloudy all day. Temperatures down a little on recent days. Maximum temperature 7 deg C (45 deg F).

Outlook for Saturday to Monday:
Largely settled over the weekend and into Monday, but on the cloudy side with limited bright spells. Continued risk of fog and frost under overnight cloud breaks. Gradually turning colder.

(C) Crown Copyright 2021. Published by the Met Office.